by our new invention. Only those born deaf are incurable.

HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.

F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:

Baltimore, Md., March 25, 1901.

Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.

About five years ago my right ear began to sing, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely.

I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, all of whom said only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.

I then saw your advertisement accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain Very truly yours,

F. A. WERMAN, 7256 Broadway, Baltimore, Md.

Our treatment does not interfere with your usual occupation.

FOILS.

(From the Town and Country, New York. Printed by Permission.)

"BUT you don't know Millicent at all when you talk this way, Vance. And it isn't fair to women generally and my friend particularly for you to continue this same old line of argument."

Winifred followed her brother into the room set apart for their fencing encounters and sat down rather dispiritedly upon the edge of a divan.

"Your defense of your friend is very loyal, my dear child," was the grandly patronizing reply, "but it does not invalidate in the least what I have said. A woman practicing medicine is as incongruous as a man trimming hats. Feminine hands were never meant for surgical operations."

"You are prejudiced, Vance," said Winifred, as she listlessly took the foil her brother offered her; "you didn't get a diploma, and I believe you're mad at all creation to think that Millicent succeeded where you failed."

A wave of crimson receded from Vance Bishop's face, leaving it quite pale.

"Must narrowness of vision be added to your shortcomings, Win?" he asked, with an evenness of tone his sister suspected.

"I don't care what you say to me," Winifred retorted; "you've tried to sit on me, more or less, all your life. But it's different with Millicent. She has been here four weeks now, and you are just as stubborn and rude as when she came. And though it has been hard work, with that little cripple sister of hers to support, the kindness of others in a measure helps her to forget the rough parts of her daily routine. But with it all she has seen your dislike of her, your pointed avoidance, your persistent rebuffs. I only hope she doesn't know the reason. I would rather have her think it was your aversion to her as a woman rather than your dislike of her beloved profession."

"As women practice it," said Vance, imperturbably.

"Science, as well as art, is sexless," was Winifred's rejoinder, with an air of superiority.

"It's a tiresome subject, Win. Let's drop it. We always quarrel."

And with a smile meant to be conciliatory Vance thrust a face guard into his sister's lap.

But Winifred was in no mood for such summary treatment. This discussion of Millicent was her hobby-horse, and the little animal, once trotted out for riding, pranced grandly at Winifred's slightest spur. Just now Winifred was inclined to curvet and execute possibly a pas seul, so irritable had she become through the persistent coldness her brother had evidenced toward her dearest friend.

It was very tiresome, for the circumstance made matters somewhat awkward whenever an evening gathering of young folks was in order and Millicent could arrange to be one of Oakland's frolicsome set.

Winifred watched her brother make a number of passes in silence. Then she returned to the attack.

"Millicent has noticed your ungentlemanly attitude," pursued Winifred, in a tone of injured dignity.

"Has she complained to you?"

His sister shot him an indignant glance, was about to retort hotly, changed her mind and maintained a severe silence.

"For if she has," continued Vance, with unmistakable emphasis, "she further proves she is no doctor. Physicians don't talk much, Win. You know that."

"Then it's a good thing you failed to get your diploma," returned his sister, sharply.

"See here," said Vance, good-naturedly, "what's the use of losing your temper over this—er—young woman? She—"

"She is my friend. She was my roommate at college, Vance. She has sacrificed her life to her little sister, and she is the dearest girl in the world."

Winifred's words poured forth with the vehemence of an incipient volcano.

Vance made a lunge at an unseen enemy, following it with such rapid movements that Winifred changed her position involuntarily. Her momentary trepidation turned to one of fierce indignation as Vance, between his rapid movements, jerked out:

"I can't—tolerate—women doctors. They never—know their business—lack courage—and impose upon human credulity."

Winifred bounded from her position, her cheeks aflame, her eyes dancing like some living light. She opened her mouth to speak, but ere one word could issue the expression upon her brother's face caused her to turn toward the hanging draperies in the door to their right. For a moment a great calm seemed to rest upon her.

In the front of these curtains stood a tall girl whose striking characteristics seemed to be her clear eyes, limpid as fresh pools of water in the early spring, and her crown of nut-brown hair arranged coronal fashion upon a very womanly head.

It was Millicent, and Winifred struggled to stifle the gasp which had risen in her throat.

But Millicent's first words reassured her.

"Your mother said I'd find you here, Win," came in a voice which held no tremor; "I wanted to ask you if you would mind going with me on my rounds this morning? Caleb hurt his hand last night and can't manage the horses, I'm afraid."

"With alacrity and pleasure," said Winifred, seeing a pleasant finale to what might have been a disagreeable contretemps; "and here is Ned to take my place with you, Vance. I'll be ten minutes dressing, Millicent," and, nodding to her brother's friend, who had thus opportunely appeared, she went out. Millicent followed her.

Ned Price laughed as soon as he was alone with his friend.

"The warfare still rages, I see," he observed, as he proceeded to array himself for the fencing bout; "candidly, I think you're an ass, Vance. There is nothing of the 'new woman' about Miss—er—Dr. Millicent Trevor; you must admit that."

"Oh, I admit anything if it dismisses the subject," said Vance, with a shrug of annoyance; "come, I'm ready for a good tilt. Don't put the guard on your foil. It's much more exciting without."

"Exciting? Yes—but—"

"But me no buts. Let's see what stuff you're made of this morning."

And, following instructions, as he invariably did with Vance, Ned entered into the fray with his accustomed zest. For a few minutes the young men played with great deliberation, making their thrusts with care, lunging with caution and running no risks.

But presently the heat of contest rose in their veins. Forgetting caution, disregarding the fact that they were playing without guards, Ned made a violent lunge, his foil missed the wide aim he had intended and in an instant had swerved to its resting place in Vance's side.

The young man dropped to the floor with barely a groan. Ned stood gazing stupidly at the prostrate figure. The crimson staining Vance's jacket brought him to his senses. He hurriedly bent over his friend, tearing open his shirt. The wound spouted out its warm, red stream.

"Good heavens! Vance, old fellow, this is awful. I didn't mean—"

Vance opened his eyes.

"That's all right—Ned. It doesn't—amount—to much," he murmured; "Winifred—"

Then he lapsed into unconsciousness.

Ned gave a frightened call for help and rushed to the door. Winifred and Millicent, with their outside wraps on, were passing through the hall on their way out.

"What is it? Anything wrong?" demanded Winifred.

"Yes. Vance. I'm afraid—I've hurt him—he would play without the guards—there's a wound—"

But Winifred, with a cry, had flown to her brother's side. Her distracted cries pierced the ears of the other two, who had followed her.

"Oh! he's dying, he's dying! Millicent, Millicent! can't you do something? Oh, what shall we do?"

Millicent approached quickly but quietly. She knelt and unfastened Vance's cravat.

"He is not dead, dear," she said to Winifred; "he has simply fainted. That is natural. He is losing blood while you are talking."

"Tell me what to do and I'll do it. Oh, if he dies—"

"In the name of common humanity," interposed Ned, impatiently, "can't you do something?"

"It isn't a case of 'can' or 'will,' Mr. Price," said Millicent, quietly; "it is a case of whether I am to be allowed. I shouldn't care to begin and then find resistance. Mr. Bishop has an antipathy to women physicians. Better send for your physician, Winnie."

"I'll go," said Ned, and hurried out. Winifred turned almost savagely upon her friend.

"And in the meantime is he to die? And because you won't help him? Oh, Millicent—"

A sob choked the further utterance of words. Millicent restrained an impulse to laugh.

"My dear, I've been holding the wound together. Your brother will not die—at least not from this. If you'll get me some bandages and my box of implements in my room, the bottom bureau drawer—"

"God bless you!"

Winifred rose with alacrity, but she paused to say: "You don't think he'll die?"

"No, of course not."

Winifred vanished.

And with her went Millicent's indifference. She glanced hastily around, and upon assuring herself that no one was in the room, she examined the wound with far greater care than she had at first displayed. She listened eagerly to the heart beats. Her whole manner betrayed the keenest anxiety. A look of tenderness her friends had never seen crept into her luminous eyes. She bent over the impassive face with unmistakable yearning, but she drew back quickly as Vance stirred uneasily and opened his eyes.

He strove mechanically to draw away from the firm hand holding the wound together.

"I know you can't tolerate women doctors, Mr. Bishop. I feel your position as keenly as you do. Nevertheless you must admit my assistance is better than none, though possibly 'lacking in courage and not knowing my business.'"

"I didn't say that for you to overhear," he said.

And it was with almost a sigh that she turned as Dr. Olds entered with Ned and Winifred.

A Self-Made Victory.

"I can't understand how Dooberby got reelected treasurer of our club."

"Why can't you?"

"Well, he got more votes than there were members present, and I know all that didn't vote for him."

CHILDHOOD.

J. LEROY BOGGS.

Like the brooklet, full of glee,
Our early life was spent;
We breathed the air so pure and free
As o'er the hills we went.

And often we would seek to find
A treasure hidden there,
In both the vales and hills combined—
Such was our only care.

The golden sun of early morn
With its beams so bright,
Could our resemblance more adorn
Than pen and paper might.

With golden beams she doth paint
A picture much more true
Than any hand could ever taint
With paints of any hue.

Such was our lives, we're wont to say,
As true as morning's sun,
And have we grown to perfect day
In the race we have run.

Saw Death Near.

"It often made my heart ache," writes L. C. Overstreet, of Elgin, Tenn., "to hear my wife cough until it seemed her weak and sore lungs would collapse. Good doctors said she was so far gone with consumption that no medicine or earthly help could save her, but a friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery and persistent use of this excellent medicine saved her life." It's absolutely guaranteed for coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma and all throat and lung diseases. 50 cents and $1.00 at J. Taylor Day, Hazel Green, and S. S. Combs & Sons, Campton, drug stores. Trial bottles free.

Sued Vanderbilts for Railroad Tax

On Dec. 27, at Maysville, Ky., State Auditor's Agent Watson filed suit against W. K. Vanderbilt and Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, as individuals, and against the latter as executor of Cornelius Vanderbilt, to compel them to list their stock and the Maysville & Big Sandy and the C. & O. railroads for taxation under the Kentucky statutes.

He alleges their stock is worth $62,000,000, and the suit is for ten years' back taxes.

Children Especially Liable.

Burns, bruises and cuts are extremely painful and if neglected often result in blood poisoning. Children are especially liable to such mishaps because not so careful. As a remedy DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is unequalled. Draws out the fire, stops the pain, soon heals the wound. Beware of counterfeits. Sure cure for piles. "DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured my baby of eczema after two physicians gave her up," writes James Mock, N. Webster, Ind. "The sores were so bad she soiled two to five dresses a day."
H. F. PIERATT.

Some words are more affective than blows; more decisive than action. Wounds may be healed; lies leave a memory of untruth behind them forever.

A Profitable Investment.

"I was troubled for about seven years with my stomach and in bed half my time," says E. Demick, Somerville, Ind, "I spent about $1,000 and never could get anything to help me until I tried Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I have taken a few bottles and am entirely well." You don't live by what you eat, but by what you digest and assimilate. If your stomach doesn't digest your food you are really starving. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does the stomach's work by digesting the food. You don't have to diet; eat all you want. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure cures all stomach troubles.

GREATEST FAMILY WEEKLY

SPENCER COOPER, : : : : Editor.

HAZEL GREEN, KY.
THURSDAY, January 2, 1902.

THE enrollment at Hazel Green academyon Wednesday was 119, and this, we believe, exceeds any former record by 19, which speaks volumes for Prof. Cord and the wisdom of his management. The news of its discipline has penetrated to every part of the country, and this pleases the parents, who have the bills to pay, because in very few cases are they able to fritter away their funds. Here they get value received for every cent spent, and now that they real ize how much this means they are giving this school their patronage. Only a few years since the same course of study obtained here would have cost twice as much at any school in the land, and even now the rate here is 40 per cent. less than elsewhere. Where the parents have two or three, or more, to educate the saving is considerable, and parents and guardians will do well to consider and—SEND HERE!

UNDER the heading "Important New Postoffice Ruling," on the last page of today's paper is an article that every subscriber should read at once. By the provisions of that ruling if we send a paper through the mails that is not paid for in advance we forfeit our right to the pound rate, and that would mean that we could no longer print the paper. Every man should see that he is paid in advance because, rather than take any chances of losing our privilege to the pound rate, we shall mark off the list all who are not paid. This matter will admit of no delay, and if you wish the paper to come to you, you must pay up today.

There's no Excuse for Ignorance.

Our notice last week that THE HERALD could be paid for in spareribs, backbones, sausage, etc., had the effect of brightening several homes hereabouts with weekly visits from the paper. Cash is preferable always, of course, as it takes that to buy paper, but where provision saves the outlay of that commodity we are glad to accommodate all comers. And in this connection we wonder that any family can do without the paper, especially if there are children to educate, for it is a fact beyond a doubt that where children have the home paper they learn to read in half the time. Every week it contains something about somebody they know, and there is the incentive to read.

Stole While He Slept.

Robbers entered the residence of one Daniel Harper at Owingsville and got away with $190 in money and some silverware. Mr. Harper had the money in his pocket, and as was his custom put his trousers under his pillow when he retired. The robbers got the money by cutting open the pocket without removing the pants from under the pillow.

TO A FRIEND.

When days are dark
And you are sad,
Just come around
I'll make you glad.

I'll sing and play
With all my might
About a girl
All dressed in white.

A little snow bird came,
A ribbon on its wing
To hear this little girl
Just play and sing.

ADA.

Wedding Bells.

In answer to several hundred invitations sent out through THE HERALD, supplementing 100 regular invitations, the Christian church of this place was crowded to its capacity on Wednesday night to witness the marriage ceremony between Miss Lula M. Kash of our town and Noah Cisco of White Oak, Morgan county.

Anticipating the happy event the friends of the contracting party dressed the church in evergreen boughs, one feature being an arch, under which the bride and groom stood while Prof. Cord, in an impressive manner pronounced the twain one flesh. The attendants were Willie Caskey of West Liberty and Miss Myrtle Reed of Caney. After the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Ellen Kash, which has been rented by the groom. They were accompanied by their young friends of the town and vicinity, and until the we sma' hours the happy throng spent the time in congratulations and in driving dull care away.

The bride is the eldest daughter of the late Joseph M. Kash, esq., and Mrs. Ellen Kash, now living at Charleston, Ill. She is a pronounced and petite blonde, quite prepossing in appearance and intellectually the peer of any young lady in Eastern Kentucky. Indeed her mind is a storehouse of useful knowledge, garnered for the grim realities of life, and in repartee sparkling with a refulgence of rarest gems.

The groom is a native of Morgan county, a professor in the faculty of Hazel Green academy, and is descended from a family distinguished for its intellectual and athletic qualities. He is himself an athletic Adonis, a picture of physical manhood, and like his chosen helpmate in life, he has also garnered in the field of knowledge.

The marriage is the result of a long standing engagement and all who have been cognizant of the betrothal have remarked the well-mated tastes of the two in common. THE HERALD heartily joins their legion of friends in congratulations, and bespeaks for this couple a life of pleasure seasoned with unusual usefulness.

He May Re-enlist.

Gon Dyer, who was a member of the Fourth Kentucky during the Spanish-American war, and who re-enlisted in the Thirty-first United States infantry last January, has just returned home from the Presidio, San Francisco. He expected to go to the Phtlippines but under final examination at San Francisco was turned down on account of heart trouble. He says he will recuperate for a while and again enlist. Gon is only about 22 years of age, and notwithstanding the diagnosis of the doctors, thinks he will be able to enter the service. He likes army life, and says tnat in as much as the government educates him by sending him over the country he will continue in the service, if he can. He says that at the pay of a soldier, average for foreign service $15.60, it beats raising corn in the mountains or Cain in Kentucky, from a general standpoint, and he says he knows it is more respectable than to be a bump on a log, as so many of our young men prove to be.

The U. S. Civil Service Commission will hold examinations at several places in each state during March and April, to secure young men and women for the government service. 9,889 persons secured positions last year through these examinations. Probably 10,000 appointments will be made this year. All appointments are for life and for most positions only a common school education is required. Salaries at appointment vary from $660 to $1200 a year, with liberal promotions afterward. Politics is not considered. This affords a good opportunity for people between 16 and 45 years of age. Those desiring places of this kind can get full information about them, free, by writing to the Columbian Correspondence College, Washington, D. C. and asking for its Civil Service catalogue, number three.

LAST MAN

Will Drink Wine to Repose of Nine Others' Souls.

The Number Ten Club of Frankfort, held its sixteenth annual banquet December 30. The members included Rudolph Barringer, John Doyal, Fred Tice, John Steed, Jesse Young, Rube Klopfer and T. C. Paris, of Frankfort; John Thatcher of Indianapolis, and Frank Lancaster of Anderson. The tenth member, Samuel Steele of Frankfort, is dead.

It was agreed at the time of the organization that no new members should be admitted, and that annual banquets should be held; chairs to be placed for members who had passed to the great beyond, and so Mr. Steele's chair was vacant last night, save for a straw hat once worn by him and an umbrella which he formerly carried. When the menu was served his plate was filled, and the program was carried out the same as if he were present in the flesh. This same custom will be followed in the years to come until but one member survives, and then it will devolve upon this survivor to sit in solitude and partake of the feast, and at the conclusion to bring forth a bottle of rare wine, which was stored away on the occasion of the first annual banquet for this special purpose, and drink to the repose of those who have passed over.

The members are men of means, and these annual affairs are elaborate.

Killing at Jackson.

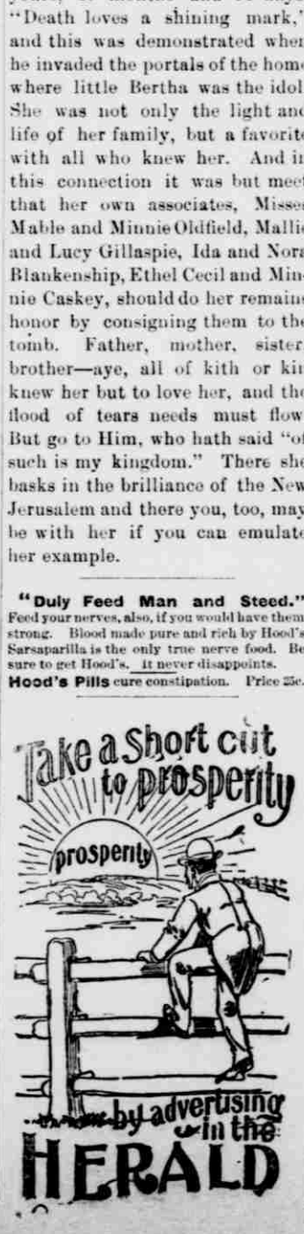

The daily papers of Thursday last contained the following from Jackson: "There is great excitement here on account of the murder of F. Bullock, who was shot on the outskirts of the city. It is not certainly known who fired the fatal shot. Estill Back, Johnson Holbrook and Joshua Miller have been arrested and a warrant issued for Claude Day. Miller, who has just returned home from serving a sentence in the penitentiary, received a bad wound in the arm. Bullock, who was well thought of, leaves a widow and two daughters. The cause of the trouble is unknown."

Since the above was put in type Claude Day has been arrested and put in jail at Jackson, and news over the telephone is to the effect that the party who shot Bullock was waylaying Sherman Cope, formerly sheriff of the county, and a man identified with Breathitt politics, but no cause for shooting has been assigned.

In Loving Remembrance.

Died, on Friday, Dec. 27, 1901, Miss Bertha H. Wallis, aged 11 years, 10 months and 14 days. "Death loves a shining mark," and this was demonstrated when he invaded the portals of the home where little Bertha was the idol. She was not only the light and life of her family, but a favorite with all who knew her. And in this connection it was but meet that her own associates, Misses Mable and Minnie Oldfield, Mallie and Lucy Gillaspie, Ida and Nora Blankenship, Ethel Cecil and Minnie Caskey, should do her remains honor by consigning them to the tomb. Father, mother, sister, brother—aye, all of kith or kin knew her but to love her, and the flood of tears needs must flow. But go to Him, who hath said "of such is my kingdom." There she basks in the brilliance of the New Jerusalem and there you, too, may be with her if you can emulate her example.

United States Senator.

In Kentucky since the adoption of the new constitution there has alwas been a dispute as to what day the first ballot for United States Senator shall be taken. The constitution provides than the legislature shall meet the Tuesday after the first Monday in January every two years. The law in reference to the election of a senator says the first ballot shall be taken on the second Tuesday after the legislature meets and organizes. The question at issue is whether to count the Tuesday upon which the legislature meets as one of the Tuesdays or not. If it is counted then the first ballot will be taken Tuesday, January 14, but if it is not counted then Tuesday, January 21, will witness the first ballot. Heretofore when the question was raised, a ballot has been taken on both the Tuesdays, so there could not be any irregularity, and this may be done this season.

ATTENTION, LOT-OWNERS

Sidewalks Must Now Be Built!

There are a number of sidewalks in the town only partly built, or badly built, which must be completed according to specifications on file in the Secretary's book. The matter of building walks or pavements, has been kept quiet, pending the decision in the McNabb case in the Court of Appeals. Now, as it has been shown that the Board of Trustees has sole control of the building of sidewalks, it will be expected that all walks be put in first-class condition at once. There will be no "dilly-dallying" any more. Property owners who have been ordered to build sidewalks may call upon the clerk, C. B. Rose, for specifications.

Catarrh

Is a constitutional disease.

It originates in a scrofulous condition of the blood and depends on that condition.

It often causes headache and dizziness, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, affects the vocal organs, disturbs the stomach.

It is always radically and permanently cured by the blood-purifying, alterative and tonic action of

Hood's Sarsaparilla

This great medicine has wrought the most wonderful cures of all diseases depending on scrofula or the scrofulous habit.

Hood's Pills are the best cathartic.

THE HERALD.

GREATEST FAMILY WEEKLY

W. T. Swango on Wednesday left for his new home at Millersburg.

Cashier Archibald of the West Liberty Bank was here Tuesday in the interest of that institution.

Rev. H. D. Adams has moved into the dwelling recently erected by our friend and fellow-citizen, E. F. Cecil.

You can pay for THE HERALD in onions, Irish potatoes, spare-ribs, &c., so there is no excuse for ignorance.

Robert J. McLin has been confined to his home this week from an attack of what Dr. Nickell fears may develop into pneumonia.

Curtis Quicksall of Frozen was shaking hands with friends here on Wednesday, and also visited his father and mother near Ezel.

AMERICA'S Greatest Medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla, because it possesses unequalled curative powers and its record of cures is GREATEST.

Joseph A. Rose, who has been with Rose & Wheeler for several months past, has moved to Stillwater, where he will remain during the winter.

Judge Blair of Morgan county, accompanied by two of his daughters arrived here Tuesday, and the young ladies matriculated at the academy Wednesday.

Married, at the bride's father's S. M. Tyler of Grassy, on New Year day, Miss Mary Jane Tyler and George Dyer, Rev. H. D. Adams officiating.

Blank School Reports for use of teachers of public schools for sale at this office—100 50 cents; 200 75¢; 3.00 $1.00.

Miss Anna Belle Combs of Campton, accompanied by her brothers Harry and C. B. Combs of Jackson, were guests of Mrs. Alice Pieratt Wednesday night, and attended the wedding of Noah Cisco and Miss Kash.

Under the caption, "Editorial Gratitude," the New York Sun of Dec. 19, reproduces our thanks to Mrs. W. H. Cord and Miss Mary Trimble, respectively, for contributed cheerfulness to the culinary department of this paper.

Dr. O. H. Swango and wife leave today for Louisville, where he will enter the Kentucky School of Medicine. They will go by way of Jackson, where they will spend a few days visiting Mrs. Swango's brothers, Mitchell and Porter Crane.

The enrollment of the academy for the term beginning Jan. 2, 1902, was larger than ever before known in the history of the school, and representatives from every point of the compass are here to attest the popularity of this popular school.

The many friends here of W. P. Cecil, of Cedar Bluff, Va., regret to hear that he was taken violently ill only a few days since and is threatened with typhoid fever. He married Miss Lilly Evans of this place quite recently, and left here in robust health.

Sam Patton, a prominent and well-to-do citizen of Quicksand, Breathitt county, was the guest of H. F. Pieratt for breakfast yesterday morning. He was here with his stepson, who entered the academy yesterday for the spring term Mr. Patton returned home by way of Pinhook, where he owns a fine farm.

Schley Gets $3,334 for His Victory

The treasury department Dec. 23rd, drew a warrant in favor of Rear Admiral Schley for $3,334, as his share of the prize money due him for the destruction of the Spanish fleet at Santiago, July 3, 1898.

SUNNY SIDE.

John H. Brooks bought a cow of D. B. May of Daysboro. Price paid not known.

A number of our young folks have attended the protracted meeting in progress at Daysboro.

Mrs. Ella Coldiron of Hazel Green was visiting from Friday till Sunday in this section.

Pouder Spencer and wife of Menefee county are visiting their parents, J. E. Brooks and wife.

Misses Loula and Maude Taulbee of Daysboro spent Friday night of last week at this place.

Our Christmas turkey flew against a stake and killed itself last week. Wish Christmas had come before it died.

Mrs. J. W. Taulbee of Daysboro and Mrs. E. B. Oney of this place spent last Thursday with Mrs. Elis Johnson of Lacy creek.

Callie Oney spent Saturday and Sunday of last week with Bud Swango and family of Stillwater, and reports a fine time.

Scott Lacy, who has been visiting his parents for some months, left Tuesday for his western home. Our young folks will miss him.

Misses Clark Long and sister Sue, and Miss Ada Nickell of Hazel Green passed through here a few days ago en route to Salem, Morgan county. The girls had quite a long walk.

Not long since we met with our young friend Ely Kash of Landsaw, and he informed us that he had just closed his school on Lacy creek, but would begin a select school at that place about the 6th of January. Ely is a good teacher.

We received a number of nice Christmas presents, and among them was a large doll. The donor thought that on receiving it we would blush, but we assure them they could not have pleased us better. We have given it the most prominent place in our home.

SWANGO SPRINGS SAYINGS.

Dr. O. H. Swango of the Heights gave us a business call Monday.

Judging from that letter last week we know that "Beauty" still holds the "Spring of Holly."

Stop the Blight

It is a sad thing to see fine fruit trees spoiled by the blight. You can always tell them from the rest. They never do well afterwards but stay small and sickly.

It is worse to see a blight strike children. Good health is the natural right of children. But some of them don't get their rights. While the rest grow big and strong one stays small and weak.

Scott's Emulsion can stop that blight. There is no reason why such a child should stay small. Scott's Emulsion is a medicine with lots of strength in it—the kind of strength that makes things grow.

Scott's Emulsion makes children grow, makes them eat, makes them sleep, makes them play. Give the weak child a chance. Scott's Emulsion will make it catch up with the rest.

This picture represents the Trade Mark of Scott's Emulsion and is on the wrapper of every bottle.

Will Waldeck of Hazel Green gave Harrison Swango and wife a pleasant call Wednesday.

Green Taulbee of Lick branch was here Saturday with the view of locating in our little village.

Harry Cecil and his sister, Miss Lilly of Goodwin Chapel, were with their grandparents last week.

Miss Eliza Nickell and her brother Wiley, attended the entertainment and Christmas tree at Hazel Green. It seems that Miss Eliza was remembered by a "Drake," as she carried home a nice present.

Mrs. Harmon Swango and little son Perry, and Miss Nora Lee embarked for a trip down the Murphy fork of Grassy Friday. The rains descended, the floods came and lasted two days and nights, but they were safely anchored in the harbor in time for supper Sunday.

CAMPTON BRIEFS.

W. Clay Campbell of Hazel Green was in town Tuesday.

Prof. F. D. Palmeter returned Friday from a visit to Montgomery county.

H. C. Lacy and wife of Hazel Green were visiting in town Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Miranda Roberts of Flat, Ky., spent Xmas with J. F. Vansant and family.

Nora Congleton, daughter of J W. Congleton of this place, is very low at this writing with fever.

Buell Combs, formerly of Breathitt county, but now of Champaigne, Ill., is visiting relatives at this place.

Rev. Bedinger, pastor of M. E. church at this place, is holding a protracted meeting on Bear Pen creek near town.

Rev. Millard Stamper and Rev. Ball both of Lee county, preached at the Baptist church at this place Saturdry night and Sunday.

Logan Shockey of Lee City was in town Saturday engaging board for himself and brother, who will attend the K. W. A. this winter.

A social was given to the young people of town and vicinity Xmas night. Many young folks gathered in and were happily entertained.

W. T. Tyler, who has been teaching school at Frenchburg, returned home Tuesday. He says he will begin a winter school at that place Jan. 13th.

Butler Cox of this place attended funeral services of his uncle Felix Bullock at Jackson. He tells us that five men are under arrest for the murder.

On Thursday, Dec. 27th, Taylor Wireman of near town, eloped with Miss Mary Jane Horton also of near town. On arriving at the clerk's office at this place to obtain his license, he found to his great astonishment that the girl's father had found out the scheme of the run aways, and had ordered the clerk not to issue the license. Mr. Horton took his girl home and the wedding was abandoned.

David Athey, an old citizen of Campton, tells us that since 1877 or during 24 years there has been 26 men killed in Wolfe county, and in nearly every case whiskey was the cause. May the day come when it, as we may call it, "The everlasting curse of humanity," may be ruled out of a civilized country, and in its stead be erected institutions to the glory of God, and the people may not tolerate that which is a draw back to civilization.

Jan. 1. POT HOOKS.

STILLWATER SPARKLES.

S. J. Wells was visiting 'Squire Taylor Sunday.

Kelley Rose is visiting on the Stamper branch.

Mrs. Martha Wells is on the sick list with rheumatism.

Robert J. Rose has been seriously ill, but is somewhat better.

The farmers are just now finishing gathering their 1901 corn crop.

Robert L, Rose has gone to Breathitt county to cut saw logs.

Several of our people attended the Christmas tree at Campton.

Uncle David Rose has been quite ill but is some better at this writing.

Miss Rilda Cox has been suffering very much with a fellon on her finger.

Mrs. Silas Collier is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Riley Pelfrey.

+ THE ARENA. +

Under the editorial management of Chas. Brodie Patterson, B. O. Flower and John Emery McLean.

The COMING AGE has been merged into the ARENA, and B O. Flower, who founded and built up the ARENA, has returned to its editorial department, in which work he is associated with Mr. Charles Brodie Patterson, President of the Alliance School of Applied Metaphysics, author of a number of leading works devoted to the New Thought, and one of the most advanced philosophical thinkers of the times, and Mr. John Emery McLean, who for the last two years has been the working editor of the ARENA, and is now associated with Mr. Patterson in the editorship of MIND. This able editorial staff is assisted by the strongest and most authoritative thinkers in the New World, who from month to month contribute their best thoughts to the review which for many years has occupied a foremost position in the very vanguard of the great authoritative magazines of the English speaking world. It is the determination of the present management to restore the ARENA to its old prestige and make it absolutely indispensable to all wide awake and progressive people. Here is a list of a few contributors to early issues. They are sufficient to indicate the authoritative character of the ARENA under its new editorial management:

Hon. Wayne MacVeagh, LL.D.
Dr. R. Osgood Mason.
Rev. R. Heber Newton, D.D.
Prof. James H. Hyslop, Ph D.
Prof. Frank Parsons.

HERALD JOB PRINTING IS THE BEST, and the cheapest

We claim to be the Lowest Priced Whiskey House. We really sell whiskey as low as $1.10 per gallon, and mind you: distilled whiskey—not a decoction of chemicals—but of course it is new and under proof.

Our "Mountain Dew" 5 year old whiskey is a liquid joy! It is actually produced by honest Tar Heels in the Mountain Section of N. C., by the old time hand process. Every drop is boiled over open furnace wood fires, in old style copper stills, in exactly the same way as distilled by our grandfathers a century ago. First rate whiskey is sold at $5 and $6 per gallon, but is not any better than "Mountain Dew." It is the best in the world and must please every customer or we will buy it back for Gold—and the Peoples National Bank of Winston, N. C., will tell you our guarantee is good. To more fully introduce "Mountain Dew," we offer either three or five gallons (in plain sealed box), at the special price of $1.95 per gallon, cash with order. Positively no larger amount shipped. On future shipments we will require the usual price, viz: $2.95 per gal. Express prepaid to all regular customers. We have branch warehouses in Denver, St. Louis, and Cincinnati, but all orders and remittances (in stamps, cash or by check, etc.) as well as requests for confidential price list must be addressed as follows:

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble: too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

Important New Post Office Ruling

BULLETIN No. 6.

Dear Sir:—The Post Office Officials at Washington, D. C., have JUST RULED that a subscription to any publication, entered as second class matter, MUST BE DISCONTINUED, when the time for which it is PAID IN ADVANCE has expired.

This is such a radical ruling and directly opposite to all law and previous rulings, that it means a complete change and revolution in the publishing business. This ruling will greatly reduce the circulation of nearly all papers and cause the withdrawal of many advertisements until a lower rate is put into effect. This vitally affects you, for it prohibits extending credit to your subscribers, and reduces your ciculation and value to advertisers. Any violation of this will deprive the publisher of his pound rate.

Immediate and concerted action is necessary:

1st.—Write or wire the newly appointed Post Master General, Hon. Henry C. Payne, at Milwaukee, Wis., where he is at present.

2nd.—Write your U. S. Senator, also Congressman.

3rd.—Let us hear from you.

Address GEN. C. H. HOWARD, Pres., National Publishers Bureau, 500 Masonic Temple, Chicago, Ill.

Child Worth Millions.

"My child is worth a million to me," says Mrs. Mary Bird of Harrisburg, Pa., "yet I would have lost her by croup had I not purchased a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure." One Minute Cough Cure is sure coure for coughs, croup and throat and lung troubles. An absolutely safe cough cure which acts immediately. The youngest child can take it with entire safety. The little ones like the taste and remember how often it helped them. Every family should have a bottle of One Minute Cough Cure handy. At this season especially it may be needed suddenly.

Never attempt to master a difficulty until you encounter it; the vibrations of fear are dangerous companions upon a structure of uncertainty.

She Wants it Published.

Gooch's Mexican Syrup has given perfect satisfaction in my family and I want to recommend it to everyone as the best remedy for coughs, colds, and all lung troubles. A young lady in my employ, who had been forced to quit work and who had been given up to die by her friends with consumption, has by the use of Gooch's Mexican Syrup been restored to health, and is now at work earning her living and enjoying good health. She wants me to publish this as it may be the means of saving the life of some other consumptive.

Food Changed to Poison.

Putrefying food in the intestines produces effects like those of arsenic, but Dr. King's New Life Pills expel the poisons from clogged bowels, gently, easily but surely, curing constipation, billiousness, sick headache, fevers, all liver, kidney and bowel troubles. WomaAn's Awful Peril.

"There is only one chance to save your life and that is through an operation" were the startling words heard by Mrs. I. B. Hunt of Lime Ridge, Wis., from her doctor after he had vainly tried to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. Gall stones had formed and she constantly grew worse. Then she began to use Electric Bitters which wholly cured her. It's a wonderful Stomach, Liver and Kidney remedy. Cures Dyspepsia, Loss of Appetite. Try it. Only 50 cts. Guaranteed. For sale by J. T. Day, Hazel Green, or S. S. Combs & Sons, Campton, druggists.

There is nothing like ASTHMALENE. It brings instant relief, even in the worst cases. It cures when all else fails.

The Rev. C. F. WELLS, of Villa Ridge, Ill., says: "Your trial bottle of Asthmalene received in good condition. I cannot tell you how thankful I feel for the good derived from it. I was a slave, chained with putrid sore throat and Asthma for 10 years. I despaired of ever being cured. I saw your advertisement for the cure of this tormenting disease, Asthma, and thought you had overspoken yourselves, but resolved to give it a trial. To my astonishment, the trial acted like a charm. Send me a full size bottle."

Rabbi of the Cong. Bnai Israel.

NEW YORK, January 3, 1901.

DRS. TAFT BROS.' MEDICINE CO.:
Gentlemen: Your Asthmalene is an excellent remedy for Asthma and Hay Fever, and its composition alleviates all troubles which combine with Asthma. Its success is astonishing and wonderful.

After having it carefully analyzed, we can state that Asthmalene contains no opium, morphine, chloroform or ether. Very truly yours,
REV. DR. MORRIS WECHSLER.

AVON SPRINGS, N. Y., February 1, 1901.

DR. TAFT BROS. MEDICINE CO.:
Gentlemen: I write this testimonial from a sense of duty, having tested the wonderful effect of your Asthmalene, for the cure of Asthma. My wife has been afflicted with spasmodic asthma for the past 12 years. Having exhausted my own skill as well as many others, chanced to see your sign upon your windows on 130th street, New York, I at once obtained a bottle of Asthmalene. My wife commenced taking it about the first of November. I very soon noticed a radical improvement. After using one bottle the Asthma has disappeared and she is entirely free from all symptoms. I feel that I can consistently recommend the medicine to all who are afflicted with this distressing disease. Yours respectfully,
O. D. PHELPS, M. D.

DR. TAFT BROS. MED' CO.: February 5, 1901.
Gentlemen: I was troubled with Asthma for 22 years. I have tried numerous remedies, but they have all failed. I ran across your advertisement and started with a trial bottle. I found relief at once. I have since purchased your full-size bottle, and I am ever grateful. I have family of four children, and for six years was unable to work. I am now in the best of health and am doing business every day. This testimony you can make such use of as you see fit.

The Agricultural and Mechanical (State) College of Kentucky offers the following courses of study, viz:
Agricultural, Horticultural, Chemical, Biological, Mathematical, Normal School, Classical, Mechanical Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Civil Engineering, each of which extends over four years and leads to a degree. Post graduate courses of study are also provided, leading each to a master's degree. Each course of study is organized under a separate faculty. The general faculty numbers more than thirty professors and instructors.
County Appointees receive tuition, room rent in dormitories, fuel and lights, and if they remain ten months, traveling expenses.
The laboratories and museums are large, well equipped, comprehensive and modern.
The last Legislature appropriated $30,000 for a college home for young women, and a drill hall and gymnasium has been provided for men.
Military tactics and science are fully provided for and required by Congress.
Graduates from the several courses of study readily find excellent positions and liberal remuneration. The demand is largely in excess of the ability of the college to supply.

ABOUT THE MONTHLY WORLD.

THE MONTHLY WORLD is a 32-page Magazine with colored cover. It is copiously illustrated with pen drawings and half-tone reproductions of photographs. The illustrations are the result of the best artistic skill, aided by all the latest printing press appliances, making a magazine unrivaled in the quality of its contents and the beauty of its appearance.

Each issue contains stories of romance, love, adventure, travel; stories of fiction and fact; stories of things quaint and curious, gathered together from all over the world; the results of scientific research, and interesting editorial reviews. It numbers among its contributors the leading literary men and women of the day. Its comic pages will present the work of famous comic artists. There will be funny paragraphs and pictures.

A feature each month will be the large first page portrait of the most famed man or woman of the moment in the public eye.

In collecting and preparing for publication the literary matter and art subjects for the Monthly World no expense is spared. It is one of the most attractive publications issued from the great city of New York. It furnishes high-class and widely varied entertainment to many thousand readers throughout North America.

Subscription 50 Cents a Year. But FREE to every new subscriber and all old subscribers who renew for THE HERALD before September 1, 1901. You get the value of $1.50 for only $1.00.

Mr. Cooper, Hazel Green, Ky.:
I purchased some of the Vitæ-Ore of you in the latter part of March, and after taking about a half-pint of the Vitæ-Ore Elixer my nerves were as steady as when I was 16 years of age, and I am now past 75. For more than a year I had been trying all the patent medicines and nostrums I could hear of to build myself up, but nothing did me any good until I used Vitæ-Ore, which my wife brought me from your house. After using it a week I went out and did three days' as hard work as I have done in 25 years, and I was not more fatigued than I was 25 years ago over the same work. It is the grandest medicine in the world, and I want everybody in the mountains to know what it did for me so they may try it. Hoping every one who has that tired feeling incident to old age will buy Vitæ-Ore of you and give it a fair trial, I remain, thankfully yours for putting me on to this remedy.

JAMES LACY.

I can vouch for every word Mr. Lacy says in the above. I am his wife and bought the medicine of Mr. Cooper for him, though I did not have much faith in it, because we had tried so many things that did no good. I have also used Vitæ-Ore, and am stronger and in better health than for years, which I attribute to its use.
